LMEpassport expansion and enhancements

We have recently added new certifications and standards to LMEpassport. It's our new digital credentials platform which allows producers of LME-listed metals to report on a wide range of sustainability metrics. Many more producers are now using the platform and have uploaded over 160 sustainability disclosures.

LME responsible sourcing latest

There are now just over three weeks left until the first submission deadline for compliance information on 30 June 2022.

If you have any questions or concerns about submitting your company's responsible sourcing information, please get in touch with our Responsible Sourcing team.

There's a range of useful resources on our website to help you, available in several languages, giving more details about responsible sourcing requirements, key timings and how to submit compliance information.

In our most recent workshops, the LME team addressed some of the most frequently asked questions on topics such as the status of Track A standards, how audits are intended to work for Track B and filling out the Red Flag Assessment for Track C. These workshops are available in both English and Chinese.
